Problem

Large District With Minimal Resources to Prepare for Upcoming Reading Program

Solution

Follett Software Inventory Services

Overview

A large school district in Texas needed to complete its reading program inventory project before school was back in session. When they realized they didn't have the resources to meet their deadline, they asked Follett for help.

The Follett Inventory Services team jumped into action, handling customer requests, answering questions, and cataloging more than 3,000 titles. They also barcoded reading program materials at 34 schools while updating and maintaining the district's records in Follett Destiny® Resource Manager.

The team was so efficient that they had time to help 12 additional schools after completing the original request. And they did all of this in just two weeks! The district's collaboration with the Follett team allowed for efficiency and contributed to the success of this project. We aim to be your partner – think of us as an extension of your team.

If the thought of barcoding and cataloging thousands of materials makes you wish summer vacation would arrive sooner rather than later, let the Follett Inventory Services Team help. Our expertise and efficiency can save you time, money, and people power, and nothing makes us happier.
